Jennifer was the lead staff person from the Charter Township of Northville, Michigan for the 7 Mile Road Site plan project I completed while completing my Graduate Degree at U of M during the spring of 2010. The project was site plan development of a piece of property the township had acquired which they planned to turn into a park. The final report on the project is available on my website. The PDF link at the bottom is the complete document. Jennifer would be happy to talk to you about the project and my, and the groups, involvement in it. I was project manager for the project and so was the main contact for Jennifer.
